To whom it may concern,

I have found All American Cable to be one of the most reputable, reliable, and hardest working group of contractors that I have encountered in over 25 years in the communications industry. Joe and his crews have provided audit services, door-to-door sales and installation services that are second to none. His honesty, integrity and industry knowledge make him a valuable business partner for Shentel.

Please feel free to contact me should you need any further information.

Sincerely,
